AUSTRIAN BULLETIN.

VIENNA, June 8,-The official Austrian correspondence contains the following:

After our troops had, according to orders, evacuated Milan on Sunday, the public functionaries also relinquished their charge, providing for the security of the town, which was transferred to the municipality.

The Imperial Austrian functionaries have withdrawn to Verons, but it is possible that they may resume their posts and functions in Mantus.

Mantua.

The Times' Paris Correspondent says two of the most influential powers had agreed on proposing an arrangement after the first great battle, and, if necessary, insisting upon its adoption by the belligerents. The Express has received by the Kangaroo, from James Brooks, senior editor of that paper, who left Paris on Tuesday night, the Paris Patric of the evening of the 7th inst., which gives the very latest news from Paris and the seat of war.

and the seat of war.

Mr. Brooks says that notwithstanding the tone and tenor of the Austrian articles in the London Times, founded on its dispatches from Vicnus, the evidence is clear that the French won a great and brilliant victory at Magenta, ctical result of which was the abandonthe practical result of which was the abandon-ment of Milan by the Austrians, and a gene-ral retreat along the whole line. The loss of the French, he however adds, is probably a great deal larger, than the Emperor's telegraph-ic dispatches admit.

So satisfied were the French of the brillianey of their victory, that Paris was not only il-luminated, but that cannon were firing from all the forts and military positions in and around Paris, and on the 7th inst., at noon, Notre Dame was filled with the presence of the great officers of the empire and of the military, under the lead of the Empress, chaunting the Te Deum in thanks for the victory. The Empress and the Princess Clotilde were received in the streets on their way with the liveliest demonstrations of enthusian.

The body of Gen. Essinasse, killed at Magenta, has been embalmed, to be taken home

The Empress herself caused the death of Gen. Clere to be announced to his wife, as having died gloriously-the widow's consolation. Havre, on the 7th was in a high state of excitement and glee over the victory. Flags adorned all public places and many of the private houses. The ladies of France, under the direction of the Empress, were all engaged in making lint for the wounded of the French and Austrian army taken prisoners. The wife of the Minister of War had started the movement, which was becoming fashionable and general. This loud official call for lint shows what have will close its labors on Monday next. They war is making in the army. It was on Tues-day that the dispatch from the Emperor reached the Empress. She caused it to be printed in placards on the streets and to be tel-egraphed to the prefects throughout all France, that on Sunday evening and night the rejoicing was general in the Empire. The Em-press herself, on Sunday night, rode through some of the principal streets, where the crowd thronged her carriage and even clung to the wheels, crying out in the loudest terms: "Long live the Emperor, the Empress, and the young Prince, too," who was not forgotten. Gen. Canrobert is not dead, nor morally wounded.

BATTLE OF MARIGNAN. 2,700 Austrians Killed and Prisoners. French Loss 500 Killed and Wounded.

BOTH ARMIES PREPARING FOR ANOTHER GENERAL ENGAGEMENT. New York, June 21 .- The steamship Per sia, with dates from Liverpool to the 11th inst. two days later than those furnished by the Kangaroo, arrived at the dock, at nine o'clock this evening. The Persia passed the Canada, bound for Liverpool, on the 12th inst.

The United States frigate Cumberland, was at Maderai, June 1st. Gamaeliel Bailey, editor of the National Era, at Washington, died on board the steamer Arago, on the 5th inst.

The details of the battle of Magenta are re ceived at London and Paris very slowly, but they do not change the first complexion. The they do not change the first complexion. The losses were undoubtedly severe on both sides.

The Austrian official accounts only acknowledge from 4,000 to 5,000 killed and wounded, and say that the enemy lost fully half as many again.

It is reported, but not confirmed, that Gen. Guylai has been dismissed and Gen. Hess ap-pointed Commander-in-Chief. The Austrians have retreated across the river

Their head-quarters were near Cremona. They were expelled from Marignan by Gen. Baraguay D'Hillirs, who took 1,200 prisoners. Paird was evacuated by the Austrians, and the Emperor Napoleon and the King of Sardinia entered Milan on the 8th inst., where they were most enthusiastically received. They remained there at last accounts.

The latest advices say that the allies were advancing from Milan in pursuit of the retreating Austrians, and also that Prussia had given indications of aiding Austria.

Great Britain.—The motion of a want of confidence in the ministry was carried in the House of Commons by a vote of 323 to 316. Nothing was known as to the expected change in the ministry when the Persia sailed. At the meeting of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, the report already published, was adopted. The red sea cable broke and was lost when only sixty miles from Cape Sidero.

FRANCE.—The Paris Bourse was depressed, and prices were lower, closing on Friday at 61f 75c. per rentes. The Bank of France has gained £2,000,000 in specie during the month.

The Austrians have been driven from Marignan with a loss of 1,200 prisoners, and the main body of the army is reported to be re-treating across the river Adda.

The British Ministry has been defeated in the House of Commons, the resolution of a want of confidence having been carried by majority of 13.

The ministry was expected to resign on the meeting of Parliament, on Saturday the 11th inst., the day the Persia left Liverpool. "The concentration of our troops on the Po, deceived the enemy into the belief that we intended to cross the river. On the morning of the 4th inst., 125,000 Austrians were in possession opposite. The Emperor and the gren-adier division of the Imperial Guard, was obliged to fight this disproportionate odds. All our generals displayed great energy."

In the subsequent action the French General Wimpfen was wounded.

Desme and Madhurt, commanders of the grenadiers were killed. The official bulletin describes the operations of Gen. McMahon, who lost 1,500 men, but put 10,000 Austrians hore du combat and made 5,000 prisoners. The Austrians had on their side four corps d'armee. The bulletin sums up the results of the five days since the departure from Allessandria as follows: Our army had three combats, gained one battle and freed Piedmont from the Austrians, who, since the battle, of Montebello, have lost 25,000 killed and wounded, 10,000 prisoners and 17 cannon. The defeat of the Austriane at Meagenta, is said to have produced an immense sensation in Germany. The correspondent of the News gives the following details. In less than two hours, the allied monarchs had deployed 60,000 men against the Austrians, whose force was 80,000, together with a powerful artillery. They compelled the Austrians to move on a most disadvantageous ground. As their left was soon turned by Gen. Canrobert's corps, sup-ported by Gen. Fants division, the Austrians ported by Gen. Fants division, the Austrians were obliged to fall back on their centre at Abbiato Grasso. The Austrian centre being thus swelled by the routed columns of their left wing, was soon in disorder, and thousands fell crushed by the French artillory. Gen. McMahon had now reached the seene, and seeing that the moment had come to break the disordered centre of the Austrians, charged with an impetuosity seldom witnessed, supported by Durands division, which stood in reservation, moving slowly beside him. The shock was terrible, and the dead and wounded were falling by thousands. The Austrians were finally d and the victory won.

The same writer says that 20 Austrian guns were taken. The Zouaves had 700 killed and ounded. A brigade in Gen. Canrobert's orps was almost destroyed in the last charge. The Emperor and the King were always in the thickest of the fight. The military men are unanimous in praise of the strugetic combinations of the Emperor. The Battle of Marignan.

A Hungarian legion was about organizing at Turin. The London Post's Paris correspondent says that over 4,000 of the prisoners are Italians, who took the earliest opportunity to give them-selves up. They were always placed in the front, and were threatened by the Greats in the rear if they did not fight well. Many of them offered to join the allies, but their services have not yet been accepted.

Horace Greeley had arrived out in less than seven days. He had visited Gregory's diggings and signed a public communication, endorsing the richness of the claims. Thousands were pouring into the new placers. Forty sluices would soon be in operation at Gregory's. The results of the operations of thirteen companies given in Greeley's published letter, show that the highest day's yield has been $510. A company from South Bend, Indiana, had taken out three thousand pennyweights, with a ken out three thousand pennyweights, with a sluice, in three weeks. Gregory's two claims sold for $21,000.
